Annex 1- Brazilian Biodiversity Fund (FUNBIO)
A. SUMMARY

1. This restructuring paper seeks to extend the Closing Date of the GEF National Biodiversity Mainstreaming and Institutional Consolidation Project (the Project, PROBIO II) for one year, from December 31, 2013 to December 31, 2014, and to ensure that capitalization of the Opportunities Fund is in compliance with OP 10.20 - Global Environment Facility Operations. This would be the first extension of the Grant’s Closing Date. The rationale for the proposed changes is: (a) to allow the Grant Co-Recipients to finalize ongoing project activities, and (b) to permit capitalization of the Opportunities Fund.

2. On May 21st, 2013, through Official Letter n° 001/2013/MMA/FUNBIO/CAIXA and on September 12, 2013 through official letter n° 002/2013/MMA/FUNBIO/CAIXA (see Attachment 1) the Grant Co-Recipients, Caixa Econômica Federal and Fundo Brasileiro para a Biodiversidade (FUNBIO) in conjunction with the Ministry of Environment (MMA), requested a one-year extension of the Grant’s Closing Date and for the Opportunities Fund to be considered a Conservation Fund according to the World Bank’s OP 10.20. It has been confirmed that for requesting the above-mentioned changes the approval of the Secretariat for International Affairs (SEAIN) is not required.

B. PROJECT STATUS

3. The Project Development Objective (PDO) is rated Satisfactory. The results to date show that the Project is supporting Brazil’s achievement of 21 of the 50 quantitative national targets defined by the UN Convention on Biological Diversity. The Project has promoted wide consultations on the “2020 Aichi Targets” with the private, non-governmental (including Indigenous Peoples organizations), and academic sectors, and is supporting the elaboration of the National Action Plan to achieve Aichi’s Targets, including extensive inter-ministerial discussions and collaborations. The Project has developed innovative biodiversity criteria and policy guidelines for strategic sectors (agriculture, fisheries, energy and health) and is supporting implementation of the private sector subprojects in more than four million hectares, in three major Brazilian biomes (Amazonia, Cerrado and Atlantic Forest) and involving various productive sectors and approaches (traditional cattle ranching, forest management, agriculture/biofuels, cocoa and chocolate production, tropical silviculture, and corporate sustainability).
4. The Project’s Implementation Progress (IP) is also rated Satisfactory. The US$22.0 million Grant for the Project was approved by the Board on January 31, 2008. The Grant Agreement was signed on March 14, 2008, and became effective on September 11, 2008, with a Closing Date of December 31, 2013. This is an innovative project, both in its multi-sectorial institutional arrangements, as well as in its scope of work involving challenging transformations in production practices and strategies. Although the Grant Agreement was signed in 2008, project implementation was slow at first and effectively commenced in 2009, once roles and procedures for project implementation became clearly defined and structured. In addition, important project activities related to the mainstreaming and adoption of biodiversity policies in public and private sectors took longer than planned due to the need to sensitize both sectors while looking for opportunities for negotiating the incorporation of principles of conservation and sustainable use of biodiversity which appeared strategically complex. After these initial start-up delays, project implementation has progressed satisfactorily. The Grant has an undisbursed balance of US$ 7.21 million, and is 67% percent disbursed.

C. PROPOSED CHANGES

5. During the supervision mission held in May 2013, a proposal was presented by Brazilian counterparts for an extension of the Project’s implementation deadline and for modification of the Opportunities Fund so as to ensure that its capitalization conforms to the Bank’s operational policies. The proposed restructuring of the GEF National Biodiversity Mainstreaming and Institutional Consolidation Project would respond to the clients’ request, entailing the following changes to allow for achievement of the two main goals described above:

a. Extension of the Grant’s Closing Date by one year, from December 31, 2013 to December 31, 2014;

b. Capitalization of the Opportunities Fund, under Component 2(c), in accordance with the requirements for Conservation Funds stated in OP 10.20 - Global Environment Facility Operations;

c. Re-categorization of Eligible Expenditures under Category 4 from “Goods, works and consultants’ services financed by Private Sector Transfers under Component 2(a) of the Project” to “Capitalization of the Opportunities Fund” under Component 2(c) of the Project; and

d. Reallocation of US$1,000,000 from Category 2 to Category 4.

5. The PDO is to promote mainstreaming of biodiversity at the national level in key public and private sector planning strategies and practices, as well as to consolidate and strengthen institutional capacity to produce and disseminate relevant biodiversity information and concepts. No change is being proposed to the PDO or to the Project’s Key Outcome Indicators. The proposed changes would, help to ensure that the Project’s indicator targets are met, including indicator 4 (1 million hectares pertaining to Private Sector Sub-beneficiaries adopting criteria associated with biodiversity conservation in their areas of operation) and indicator 5 (5 private sector stakeholders adopting criteria linked with biodiversity conservation and sustainable use).

6. Closing Date Extension. A one-year extension to the Closing Date of PROBIO II is proposed, from December 31, 2013, to December 31, 2014. This would allow finalization of ongoing activities under all components, and permit a general assessment of the Project’s results. This is particularly relevant for sectors which implement policies that often have significant impacts on biodiversity, such as fisheries, energy, and agriculture, and for which negotiations regarding the incorporation of conservation principles and sustainable use of biodiversity were more difficult.

7. Capitalization of Opportunities Fund. The objective of the Opportunities Fund (the Fund) is to support/catalyze/pilot the mainstreaming of biodiversity principles into private sector initiatives. Project activities under Component 2 of the Project comprise two phases: (a) prospecting and negotiating, and (b) implementing subprojects. As project implementation was initiated at the onset of the 2008 financial crisis, and subprojects aimed at changing production processes so as to incorporate biodiversity concepts and practices in the business strategies, prospecting and negotiating subprojects with the private sector took longer than anticipated. In addition, most subprojects have negotiated a medium/long term implementation period (3-5 years), which means that they will not be able to account for funds received from PROBIO II before the Grant’s December 31, 2013 Closing Date.

8. The Opportunities Fund is a sinking fund sheltered under FUNBIO’s legal personality, created as part of Component 2(c) activities. It has been established as a separate account under FUNBIO, who acts as a trustee for the funds. It is similar to the type of conservation fund established under the Brazil Amazon Region Protected Areas Project (TF051240).

9. Although no private sector subprojects have been financed to date, four private sector subprojects have been identified and negotiated by FUNBIO. These have been submitted to the Opportunities Fund Technical Commission, which in turn has recommended them for financing to the FUNBIO Board; the assessment of a fifth subproject by the Commission is pending. The four subprojects will commit a total of approximately US$11.8 million in co-financing (and an additional US$ 4.85 million for the fifth subproject).

10. To allow for the implementation of the private sector biodiversity mainstreaming strategy that contemplates actions which have both a geographical focus and a sectorial approach, leading to a stronger impact of project activities, it is necessary to adjust the Opportunities Fund to the requirements for Conservation Funds as stated in OP 10.20 - Global Environment Facility Operations. The specific requirements contained in OP 10.20, dated July 2009 and revised in April 2013, will be addressed as follows:

a. Audits of the Fund will be conducted annually by FUNBIO and made available to the World Bank, and will follow procedures acceptable to the World Bank.

b. The Opportunities Fund Technical Commission, composed of one representative from the MMA, one from the private sector, and two nominated by FUNBIO, is responsible for reviewing, recommending and overseeing progress of subprojects; for identifying funding priorities; and for proposing fundraising strategies for the Fund. As Secretariat of the Fund, FUNBIO is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the Fund, including support to the implementation of subprojects, as well as subproject monitoring and reporting. (Background information on FUNBIO is provided in Annex 1.) To execute such tasks, FUNBIO counts on staff with ample experience and capacity in project management, financial management, and procurement. The Fund’s resources are administrated by FUNBIO’s Asset Management Committee. Private sector subprojects are selected according to the Project’s selection criteria, which require that subprojects contribute to the Project’s PDO and satisfy other World Bank requirements, as set forth in the Opportunities Fund Operational Manual. Disbursement, auditing and reporting requirements, as well as monitoring and evaluation procedures, follow those cited in the Fund’s Operational Manual, as well as those contained in the Project’s Operational Manual, all of which are in agreement with World Bank procedures and guidelines and with FUNBIO’s practices.

c. The Operational Manual for the Opportunities Fund has been approved by the World Bank and is in line with World Bank procedures for procurement and anticorruption policies. Also, model forms pertaining to the Project Operational Manual for Private Sector Transfer Agreements will include anti-corruption clauses stating that implementation has to be done in accordance with the World Bank’s guidelines, and will be submitted for a no objection before being signed.

d. Subproject implementation, including financial reporting, will be carried out in accordance with the rules set forth in the Opportunities Fund Operational Manual and which abide by the conditions stipulated in the Grant Agreement. These include annual subproject audits to be conducted throughout the duration of each subproject, as well as annual audits of the Fund (see item (a)).

e. These requirements will be included in the amendment to the Grant Agreement.
11. Re-categorization of Eligible Expenditures and Reallocation of Funds. In addition, it is proposed that the original allocation of funds among categories of disbursement be altered, so that (a) Category 4 expenses become “Capitalization of the Opportunities Fund”, and (b) US$1,000,000 be reallocated from Category 2 to Category 4, as shown in the disbursement table below:

12. This restructuring will allow sub-projects to continue to be implemented beyond the Grant’s Closing Date, according to the rules set forth in the Opportunities Fund Operational Manual and which abide by the conditions stipulated in the Grant Agreement. It is proposed that disbursements to the Opportunities Fund take place once the amendment to the Grant Agreement is signed.

13. During a Financial Supervision Mission held from September 16 to 20, 2013, it was noted that only 10% of funds under Category 2 had been disbursed to date.
Even if all planned activities under Category 2 are implemented, it is anticipated that not all of the funds under this category will be utilized. Category 4 already has four subprojects submitted to, and recommended by, the Opportunities Fund Technical Commission, and the current economic, post 2008 financial crisis context indicates that the private sector is once again engaging in long term planning. Thus, we propose to reallocate at least 25% of funds from Category 2 to Category 4, given that there are possibilities of negotiating new, additional private sector subprojects using these additional funds. The proposed reallocation of funds is shown in the disbursement table above.

14. The proposed changes modify Subcomponent 2(c) of the Project and they would ensure the necessary conditions for the Opportunities Fund, under Component 2(c), to be implemented and/or completed properly. As described in the Project Appraisal Document and other documents, the Opportunities Fund was to be initially supported by the GEF, but it was expected that over time the Fund would expand based on other investments and donations from new sources, so that the learning experience from the subprojects could be replicated in new productive landscapes and other economic sectors, making it a Conservation Fund as defined under OP 10.20. Fundraising efforts are being conducted by FUNBIO with a view to securing additional capital to ensure continuation of the Fund after PROBIO II funds have been exhausted. The Project’s funds will capitalize the Opportunities Fund, while co-financing will cover administrative costs.

15. The proposed restructuring would not trigger any new safeguard policies or result in a change in the Project’s Environmental Category. As a result, all of the Project’s safeguard documents remain appropriate and do not require to be updated for this restructuring. Component 2 was classified as Category B: moderate environmental risk operation, and is expected to continue in this category. The four Private Sector Subprojects that have been identified were assessed by FUNBIO’s technical staff on their compliance with PROBIO II’s criteria, including screening with the safeguards checklist and, as required, application of the Project’s safeguard procedures as agreed in the Project’s Operational Manual, before being submitted to the Opportunities Fund Technical Commission. No significant issues have been identified in the social and environmental assessment of the four private sector subprojects, and hence no Environmental Management Plan (EMP) is required. Preliminary assessment of the fifth subproject suggests no EMP will be required; in the unlikely event that it proves necessary, FUNBIO’s team will be responsible for ensuring delivery and monitoring implementation of any EMP.

16. There are no overdue audits under the Project.
Annex 1

Brazilian Biodiversity Fund

_Fundo Brasileiro para a Biodiversidade_
FUNBIO

1. Established as part of Brazil’s strategy to meet the goals of the Convention on Biological Diversity, FUNBIO is an environmental fund with the mission to invest strategic resources in the conservation of biodiversity. It is a not-for-profit civil association governed by a Board of Directors, with members from business, the environment, government and academia, and which is responsible for setting the general policy for the Fund, its targets and priorities. These are then translated into specific actions by FUNBIO’s Executive Secretariat. The Asset Management Committee, made up of members of the Board and invited experts, is responsible for the selection of the professional asset manager, the investment policy for the different funds administrated by FUNBIO, and following up on results. FUNBIO abides by a number of institutional policies and safeguards, including Code of Ethics, Social and Environmental Safeguards Policy, Plan of Action for Gender Equality, Indigenous Peoples Policy, and Open Door Policy.

2. To implement and support biodiversity conservation projects and programs, FUNBIO manages assets derived from different sources, including international cooperation (Global Environment Facility (GEF), the German Government, through KfW banking group, and the US Treasury, through USAID) and contributions from NGO’s and international foundations. FUNBIO also engages in financial management, and procurement and contracting activities, supporting its partners in designing annual operational plans, planning project demands, and making investments of resources in the form of goods, services or financial resources. All work is monitored and reported to its financiers on an ongoing basis, assuring complete transparency in how its resources are used. FUNBIO is audited every year by leading firms, and all the reports are divulged on its website.

3. Since 1996, FUNBIO has administrated US$400 million; supported 197 projects from over 150 organizations; supported 229 municipal, state and federal Protected Areas (PAs), representing around 51% of the protected surface in Brazil; and managed R$173 million in four endowment and fiduciary funds.

4. FUNBIO is a beneficiary of a number of World Bank-financed projects, including Phase II of the Amazon Region Protected Areas program (ARPA), expected to be completed in 2018, and has the adequate staff to exercise satisfactory control over the use of the Opportunities Fund as specifically required by OP 10.20. FUNBIO has an operational procurement unit with extensive experience in the implementation of projects financed by the World Bank, and is responsible for all processes and procedures required by the guidelines of the World Bank. FUNBIO also has a financial management unit with staff experienced in implementation of projects financed by the World Bank, and responsible for all processes and procedures required by the World Bank that support PROBIO II. Finally, FUNBIO is also empowered to monitor, support and relay all necessary information to subprojects executing entities.

SCHEDULE 1

Project Description

The objectives of the Project are to promote mainstreaming of biodiversity at the national level in key public and private sector planning strategies and practices as well as to consolidate and strengthen institutional capacity to produce and disseminate relevant biodiversity information and concepts.

The Project consists of the following Components:

Component 1. Mainstreaming Biodiversity into Selected Public and Economic Sectors

Implement a national biodiversity policy and promote the mainstreaming of biodiversity conservation and sustainable use through public sector pilot activities aimed at supporting relevant stakeholders in different economic sectors and in each Brazilian biome by:

(a) assessing the bottlenecks and alternative solutions for biodiversity mainstreaming in the public sector while building consensus with stakeholders in order to develop sector plans, including a portfolio of activities and instruments, with policy recommendations; and

(b) carrying out on-the-ground pilot activities, including those developed on the basis of recommendations adopted under Component 1(a) above, such as, inter alia, incorporation of biodiversity-friendly techniques into agricultural and livestock management practices, sustainable use of native species, sustainable agro-forestry development, and models to manage health risks for native wildlife, in order to draw lessons learned from the practical application of a portfolio of mainstreaming tools that can then inform a future discussion on biodiversity mainstreaming in the Member Country and elsewhere, through: (i) studies and assessments; and (ii) the implementation of public sector subprojects (the Public Sector Sub-projects).

Component 2. Mainstreaming Biodiversity into the Private Sector

Incorporate conservation and sustainable use of biodiversity into key private sector planning strategies and practices through the creation and capitalization of a fund (the Opportunities Fund) within FUNBIO by:

(a) financing landscape level subprojects (the Private Sector Sub-projects) designed to test the mainstreaming of biodiversity in private productive practices following public policies at the regional level;
(b) building a knowledge base (the Knowledge Base Facility) on high potential areas, financial mechanisms for promoting incorporation of biodiversity guidelines, tested tools and best practice for integrating biodiversity considerations into productive landscape processes and strategies, in order to facilitate the assessment and selection of Private Sector Sub-projects and to support future mainstreaming efforts in the private sector;

(c) creating, capitalizing, managing and sustaining the Opportunities Fund to: (i) support mainstreaming initiatives in the private sector; and (ii) finance integrated landscape based Private Sector Sub-projects, best practice and innovations generated and disseminated through the Knowledge Base Facility; and

(d) supporting FUNBIO to: (i) carry out Project administration, monitoring and evaluation of Component 2 of the Project, through financial management, procurement and audit activities; annual and mid-term reviews; independent assessments; and Project-closing activities; and (ii) ensure adequate information, dissemination and communication strategies through workshops, conferences and special events; coordination and oversight of Component 2 of the Project; and publication and dissemination of information generated by Project activities.

Component 3. Institutional Strengthening and Generation of Biodiversity Information for Policymaking

Promote technical, institutional and organizational capacity in the institutions responsible for developing and implementing biodiversity policy in the Member Country based on the establishment of mechanisms for coordination among these institutions while enhancing the production and exchange of biodiversity information to inform policy decisions and project design in all sectors by:

(a) supporting: (i) institutional strengthening and capacity building for key institutions involved in biodiversity mainstreaming into economic sectors in the Member Country territory; (ii) creation of networks to fill knowledge gaps and practice; and (iii) establishment of a virtual institute (the Brazilian Virtual Institute for Biodiversity) to link existing scientific and academic institutions, create synergies and foster collaboration in mainstreaming biodiversity into the public and private sectors while ensuring access to biodiversity knowledge or identification of knowledge gaps relevant for policymaking and conflict resolution related to mainstreaming biodiversity; and

(b) generating and managing biodiversity information through: (i) technical assistance; and (ii) implementation of Public Sector Sub-projects; all of these by assisting in the creation and/or strengthening of selected thematic specialized centers (the Thematic Specialized Centers for the Conservation of Fauna and Flora), in order to promote the production and exchange of biodiversity information, including through the Brazilian Virtual Institute for Biodiversity, relevant for policymaking and CBD compliance while offering training on biodiversity to institutions from different economic sectors where biodiversity has not previously been a priority or where identified capacity gaps hinder effective work to mainstream biodiversity considerations into sector policies and programs.

Component 4. Project Coordination and Management

Support efficient and effective implementation, supervision, coordination and administration of the Project by:

(a) carrying out Project technical administration, monitoring and evaluation through: (i) procurement; (ii) annual and mid-term reviews; (iii) independent assessments; and (iv) technical Project-closing activities;

(b) ensuring adequate information, dissemination and communication strategies through: (i) workshops, conferences and special events; (ii) Project coordination and oversight; and (iii) publication and dissemination of information generated by Project activities; and

(c) carrying out Project financial administration, through: (i) financial management and audit activities; and (ii) financial Project-closing activities.
