DATA NOTES

The data in this book are for 1997 or the most recent year, unless otherwise noted in the glossary.

Growth rates are proportional changes from the previous year unless otherwise noted.

Regional aggregates include data for low- and middle-income economies only.

Figures in italics indicate data for years or periods other than those specified.

Symbols used:

.. means that data are not available or that aggregates cannot be calculated because of missing data.

0 or 0.0 means zero or less than half the unit shown.

$ means current U.S. dollars, unless, otherwise noted.

Data are shown for countries with populations greater than 30,000, or less if they are members of the World Bank. The term country (used interchangeably with economy) does not imply political independence or official recognition by the World Bank but refers to any territories for which the authorities report separate social or economic statistics.

access to safe water: the percentage of people with reasonable access to an adequate amount of safe water in their dwelling or within a convenient distance of their dwelling. (World Health Organization) access to sanitation: the percentage of the urban population served by connections to public sewers or household systems such as privies, pour-flush latrines, septic tanks, communal toilets, and similar facilities. (United Nations)

aid per capita: official development assistance and official aid received from members of the OECD Development Assistance Committee and other official donors. (Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development) aircraft departures: the number of domestic and international take-offs of air-craft in 1996. (International Civil Aviation Organization) child malnutrition: the percentage of children under five whose weight for age is more than two standard deviations below the average for the reference population. The reference population, adopted by the World Health Organization in 1983, is based on children from the United States, who are assumed to be well nourished. (United Nations, World Health Organization, LINICEF) central government revenues: all revenue from taxes and current nontax revenue (other than grants) such as fines, fees, royalties, and income from property or sales. The data are for 1996. (International Monetary Fund)

C02 emissions: emissions stemming from the burning of fossil fuels and the manufacture of cement. They include carbon dioxide produced during consumption of solid, liquid, and gas fuels and gas flaring. The data are for 1996. (Carbon Dioxide Analysis Center) cost of 3 minutes local call: the cost of a three-minute call within the same exchange area using the subscriber's equipment (that is, not from a public phone). (International Telecommunication Union) deforestation: the permanent conversion of natural forest areas to other uses, including shifting cultivation, permanent agriculture, ranching, settlements, and infrastructure development. Deforested areas do not include areas logged but intended for regeneration or areas degraded by fuelwood gathering, acid precipitation, or forest fires. Negative numbers indicate an increase in forest area. (Food and Agriculture Organization) electricity use per capita: the production of power plants and combined heat and power plants less transmission, distribution, and transformation losses and own use by heat and power plants. (International Energy Agency) energy use per capita: the apparent consumption of commercial energy, which is equal to indigenous production plus imports and stock changes, minus exports and fuels supplied to ships and aircraft engaged in international transportation. (International Energy Agency) exports of goods and services: the value of all goods and other market services provided to the world, including merchandise, freight, insurance, travel, and other nonfactor services. Factor and property income (formerly called factor services) such as investment income, is excluded. (World Bank, Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, United Nations) fertility rate: the number of children that would be born to a woman if she were to live to the end of her childbearing years and bear children in accordance with current age-specific fertility rates. (World Health Organization) foreign direct investment: net inflows of investment to acquire a lasting management interest (10 percent or more of voting stock) in an enterprise operating in an economy other than that of the investor. It is the sum of equity capital, reinvestment of earnings, other long-term capital, and short-term capital as shown in the balance of payments. (International Monetary Fund) forests: land under natural or planted stands of trees, whether productive or not. (Food and Agriculture Organization)

GDP: the gross domestic product at purchasers' prices is the sum of the gross value added by all resident and non-resident producers in the economy plus indirect taxes and minus any subsidies not included in the value of the products. It is calculated without making deductions for depreciation of fabricated assets or for depletion and degradation of natural resources. (World Bank, Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, United Nations)

GDP growth: the one-year rate of growth in real gross domestic product. (World Bank, Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, United Nations)

GDP implicit price deflator: the average annual rate of price change in the economy as a whole for 1990-1997. (World Bank, Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, United Nations)

GNP per capita: the gross national product divided by midyear population. Gross national product is equal to GDP plus net receipts of primary income (employee compensation and property income) from nonresident sources. (World Bank) girls in primary school: the number of female pupils enrolled in primary school as a percentage of total pupils enrolled in public and private schools. (United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization) girls in secondary school: the number of female pupils enrolled in secondary school as a percentage of total pupils enrolled in public and private schools. (United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization) gross domestic investment: outlays on additions to the fixed assets of the economy plus net changes in the level of inventories. Fixed assets include land improvements; plant, machinery, and equipment purchases; and the construction of roads, railways, and the like, including commercial and industrial buildings, offices, schools, hospitals, and private residential dwellings. Inventories are stocks of goods held by firms to meet temporary or unexpected fluctuations in production or sales. (World Bank, Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, United Nations) high technology exports: goods produced by industries (based on U.S. industry classifications) that rank among a country's top ten in terms of research and development expenditures. (United Nations) illiteracy - female: the percentage of adult females who cannot, with understanding, read and write a short, simple statement about their everyday life. (United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization) illiteracy - male: the percentage of adult males who cannot, with understanding, read and write a short, simple statement about their everyday life. (United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization) imports of goods and services: the value of all goods and other market services provided to the world, including merchandise, freight, insurance, travel, and other nonfactor services. Factor and property income (formerly called factor services) such as investment income, is excluded. (World Bank, Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, United Nations) infant mortality rate: the number of infants who die before reaching one year of age, per 1,000 live births in a given year. (World Health Organization) internet hosts: the number of computers with active Internet Protocol (IP) addresses connected to the Internet, per 10,000 people. All hosts without a country code are assumed to be located in the United States. (Network Wizards) life expectancy: the number of years a newborn infant would live if prevailing patterns of mortality at the time of its birth were to stay the same throughout its life. (World Health Organization)

money and quasi money: the sum of currency outside banks, demand deposits other than those of the central government, and the time, savings, and foreign currency deposits of resident sectors other than the central government (frequently called M2). (International Monetary Fund)

net barter terms of trade: the ratio of the export price index to the corresponding import price index measured relative to the base year 1995. (United Nations Conference on Trade and Development, International Monetary Fund)

net primary enrollment: the ratio of total enrollment, regardless of age, to the population of the primary school age group. Based on the International Standard Classification of Education (ISCED). Net enrollment ratios exceeding 100 indicate discrepancies between the estimates of school-age population and reported enrollment data. (United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization) net secondary enrollment: the ratio of total enrollment, regardless of age, to the population of the secondary school age group. Based on the International Standard Classification of Education (ISCED). Net enrollment ratios exceeding 100 indicate discrepancies between the estimates of school-age population and reported enrollment data. (United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization) overall budget deficit: current and capital revenue and official grants received, less total expenditure and lending minus repayments. (International Monetary Fund) paved roads: the length of roads that have been sealed with asphalt or similar road-building materials expressed as a share of total road length. (International Road Federation) personal computers: the estimated number of self-contained computers designed to be used by a single individual, per 1,000 people. (International Telecommunication Union) population: based on the de facto definition of population, which counts all residents regardless of legal status or citizenship, except for refugees not permanently settled in the country of asylum. (World Bank) population density: the total population divided by land area in square kilometers. (Land area excludes areas under inland bodies of water.) (World Bank, Food and Agriculture Organization) population growth: the one-year rate of growth in total population. (World Bank) present value of debt: the sum of short-term external debt plus the discounted sum of total debt service payments due on public, publicly guaranteed, and private nonguaranteed long-term external debt over the life of existing loans. (World Bank, International Monetary Fund) rural population density: the rural population divided by the arable land area. Rural population is the difference between the total population and the urban population. (Food and Agriculture Organization)

short term debt: all debt having an original maturity of one year or less and interest in arrears on long-term debt. (World Bank)

surface area: a country's total area including areas under inland bodies of water and some coastal waterways. (Food and Agriculture Organization)

telephone mainlines: telephone lines connecting a customer's equipment to the public switched telephone network, per 1,000 people. (International Telecommunications Union)

total debt service: the sum of principal repayments and interest actually paid in foreign currency, goods, or services on long-term debt, interest paid on short-term debt, and repayments (repurchases and charges) to the IMF. (World Bank)

trade as share of PPP GDP: the sum of exports and imports of goods and services divided by the value of GDP converted to international dollars at purchasing power parity (PPP) rates. (World Bank)

trade growth less GDP growth: the difference between annual growth in trade of goods and services and growth in GDP from 1987 to 1997. (World Bank)

under-5 mortality rate: the probability that a newborn baby will die before reaching the age of five, if subject to current age-specific mortality rates. (United Nations, UNICEF) urban population: the midyear population of areas defined as urban in each country and reported to the United Nations. (United Nations) value added in agriculture: the net output of agriculture (International Standard Industrial Classification divisions 1-5 including forestry and fishing) after adding up all outputs and subtracting intermediate outputs. (World Bank, Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, United Nations) value added in industry: the net output of industry (includes mining, manufacturing, construction, electricity, water, and gas) after adding up all outputs and subtracting intermediate outputs. (World Bank, Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, United Nations) value added services: the net output of services (International Standard Industrial Classification divisions 50-99) after adding up all outputs and subtracting intermediate outputs. (World Bank, Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, United Nations)

water use: estimates from the World Resources Institute of domestic, industrial, and agricultural water use. (World Resources Institute)

short term debt: all debt having an original maturity of one year or less and interest in arrears on long-term debt. (World Bank)

surface area: a country's total area including areas under inland bodies of water and some coastal waterways. (Food and Agriculture Organization)

telephone mainlines: telephone lines connecting a customer's equipment to the public switched telephone network, per 1,000 people. (International Telecommunications Union)

total debt service: the sum of principal repayments and interest actually paid in foreign currency, goods, or services on long-term debt, interest paid on short-term debt, and repayments (repurchases and charges) to the IMF. (World Bank)

trade as share of PPP GDP: the sum of exports and imports of goods and services divided by the value of GDP converted to international dollars at purchasing power parity (PPP) rates. (World Bank)

trade growth less GDP growth: the difference between annual growth in trade of goods and services and growth in GDP from 1987 to 1997. (World Bank)

under-5 mortality rate: the probability that a newborn baby will die before reaching the age of five, if subject to current age-specific mortality rates. (United Nations, UNICEF)
